With 22+ years of experience in strategy articulation and implementation across diverse markets and industry sectors, Ashutosh primarily focuses on strategic initiatives for catalysing the firm's headline growth. In a career spanning both management consulting and law firms, he has advised clients – both internal and external – on strategic planning, market evaluation & entry, financial analysis, change management, stakeholder engagement, and business development (domestic/international) interventions.

At Fox & Mandal, Ashutosh leads the firm's initiatives on identified growth drivers, client engagement, international relationships, practice development, and thought leadership. He has earlier worked with some of the leading consulting and law firms in India such as Khaitan & Co, Economic Laws Practice, KPMG, and Aon-Hewitt, among others. Ashutosh read for an LLB at University of Delhi, an MBA at University of Oxford, and an LLM at Columbia University.
